

DYMITR WORKSTATION

INTRODUCTION

Where Function Meets Flow.

The Dymitr Workstation is designed to bring structure and flexibility to contemporary work environments. Clean lines, intelligent details, and balanced proportions make it a modern centerpiece for both collaborative and focused work zones.

Created by Dymitr Malcew, the design combines architectural clarity with human comfort — a seamless expression of productivity, precision, and purpose.

Design & Functionality

Thoughtfully Structured, Naturally Fluid.

The Dymitr Workstation blends minimal geometry with practical efficiency. Its angular frame supports spacious work surfaces, while the integrated panels ensure privacy and acoustic comfort.

Every element — from storage to cable management — is intuitively designed to support modern workflow demands. The workstation adapts to teams, tasks, and spaces with effortless versatility.

Comfort & Collaboration

Designed Around People.

Dymitr is not just a workstation — it's a shared ecosystem. The generous table depth and optional privacy screens balance collaboration and concentration, allowing users to shift between focus and teamwork seamlessly.

Ergonomic proportions, tactile finishes, and soft edges promote a sense of calm and composure throughout the workday.

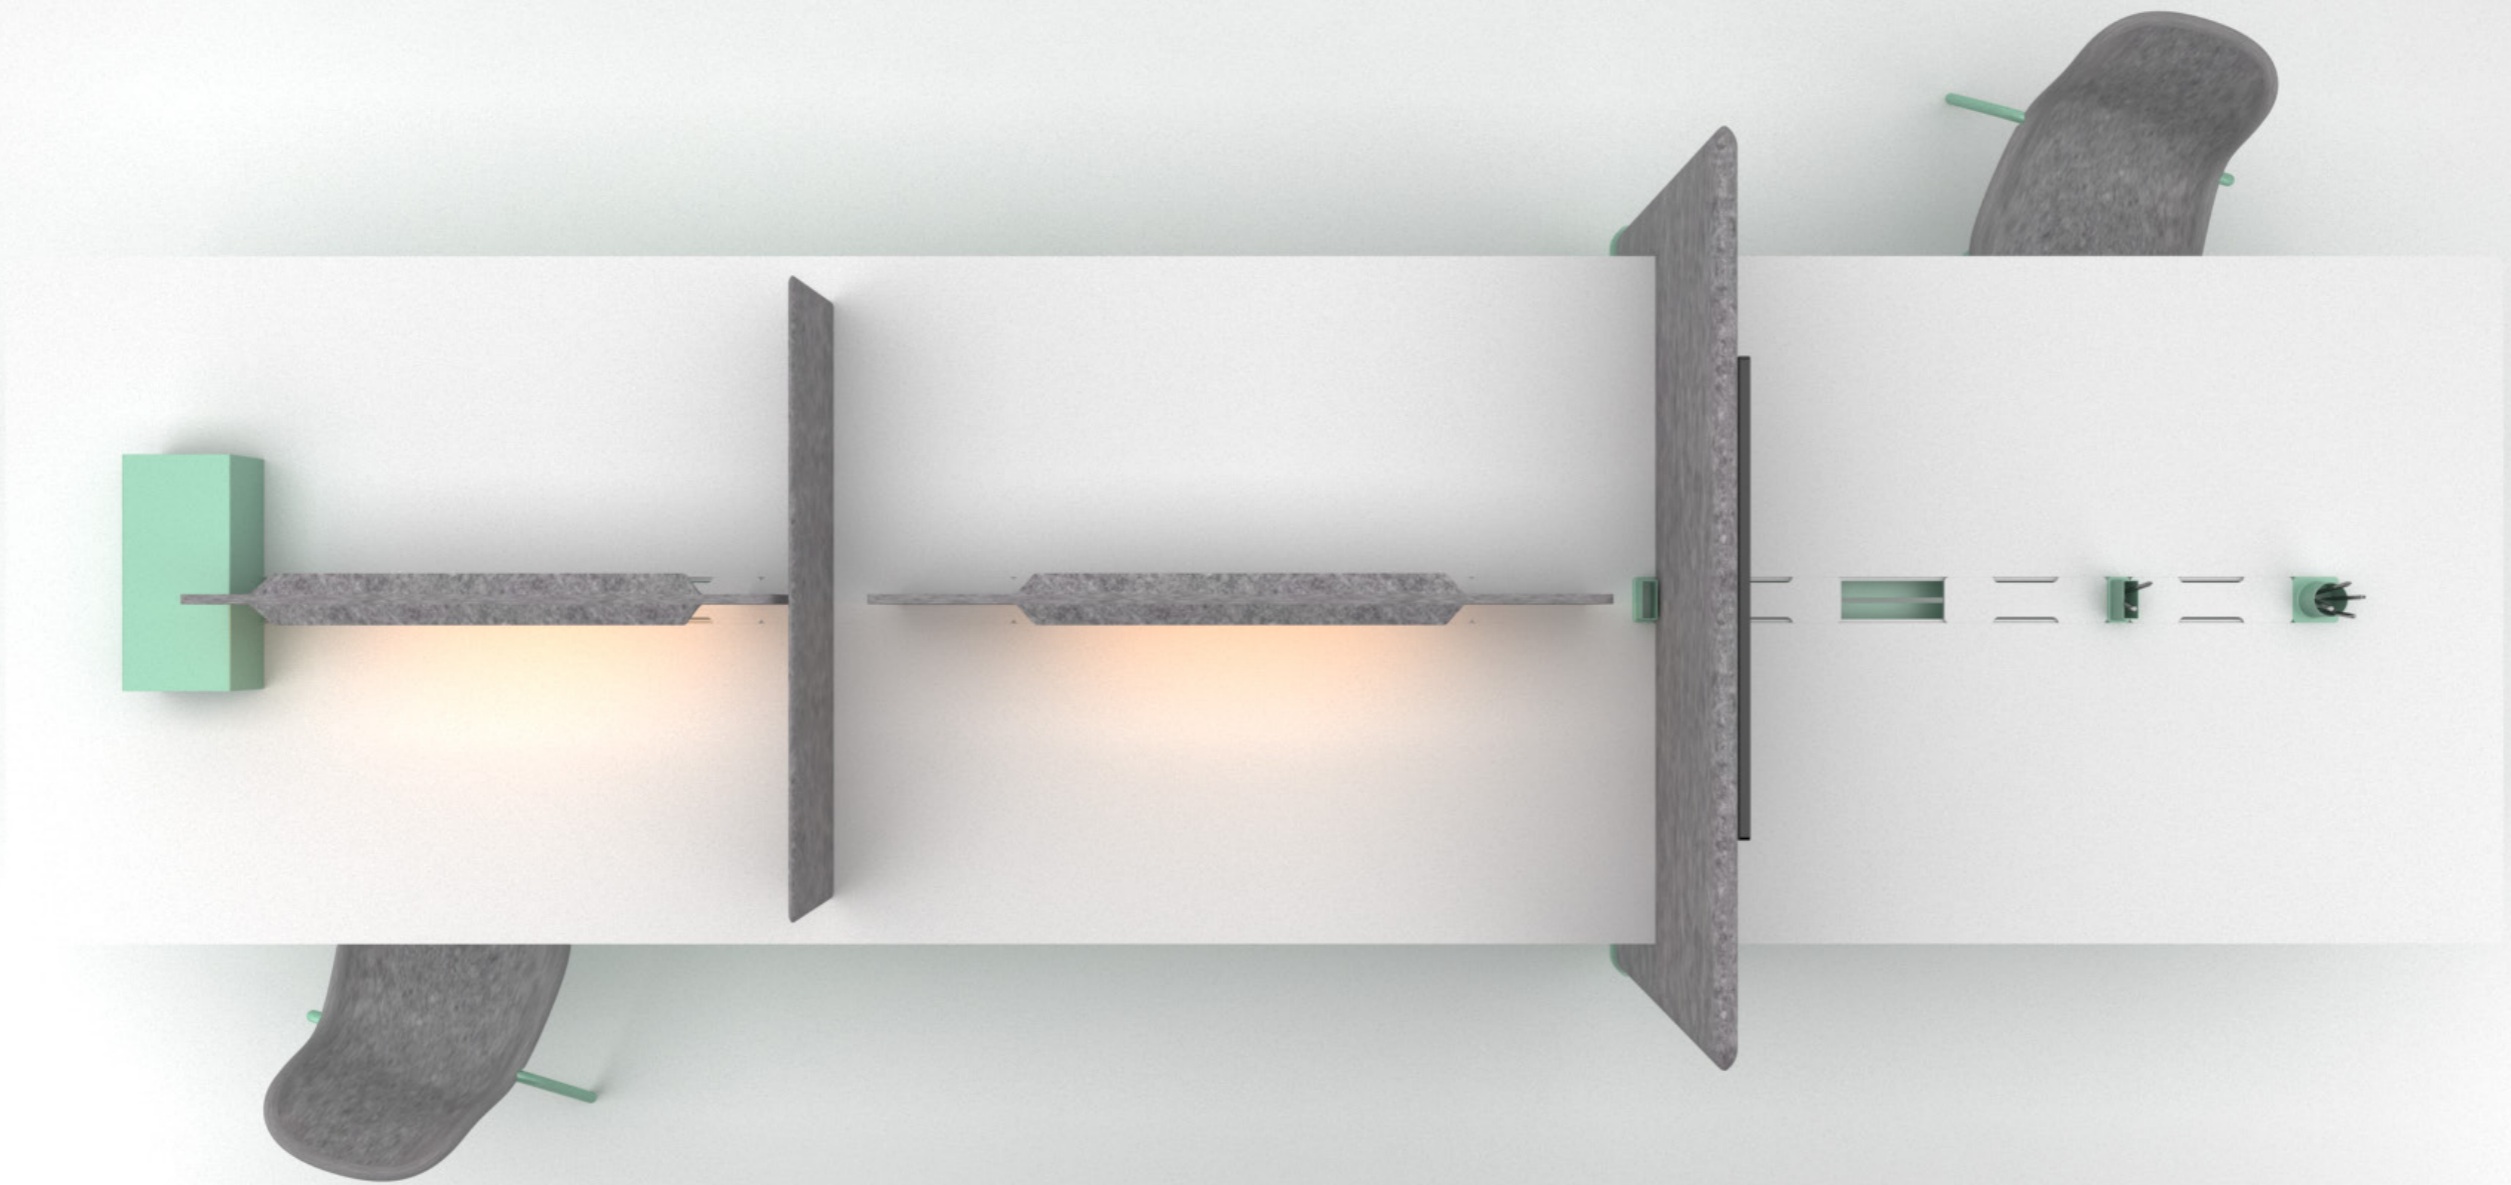

Sustainability & Material Integrity

Sustainable by Design.

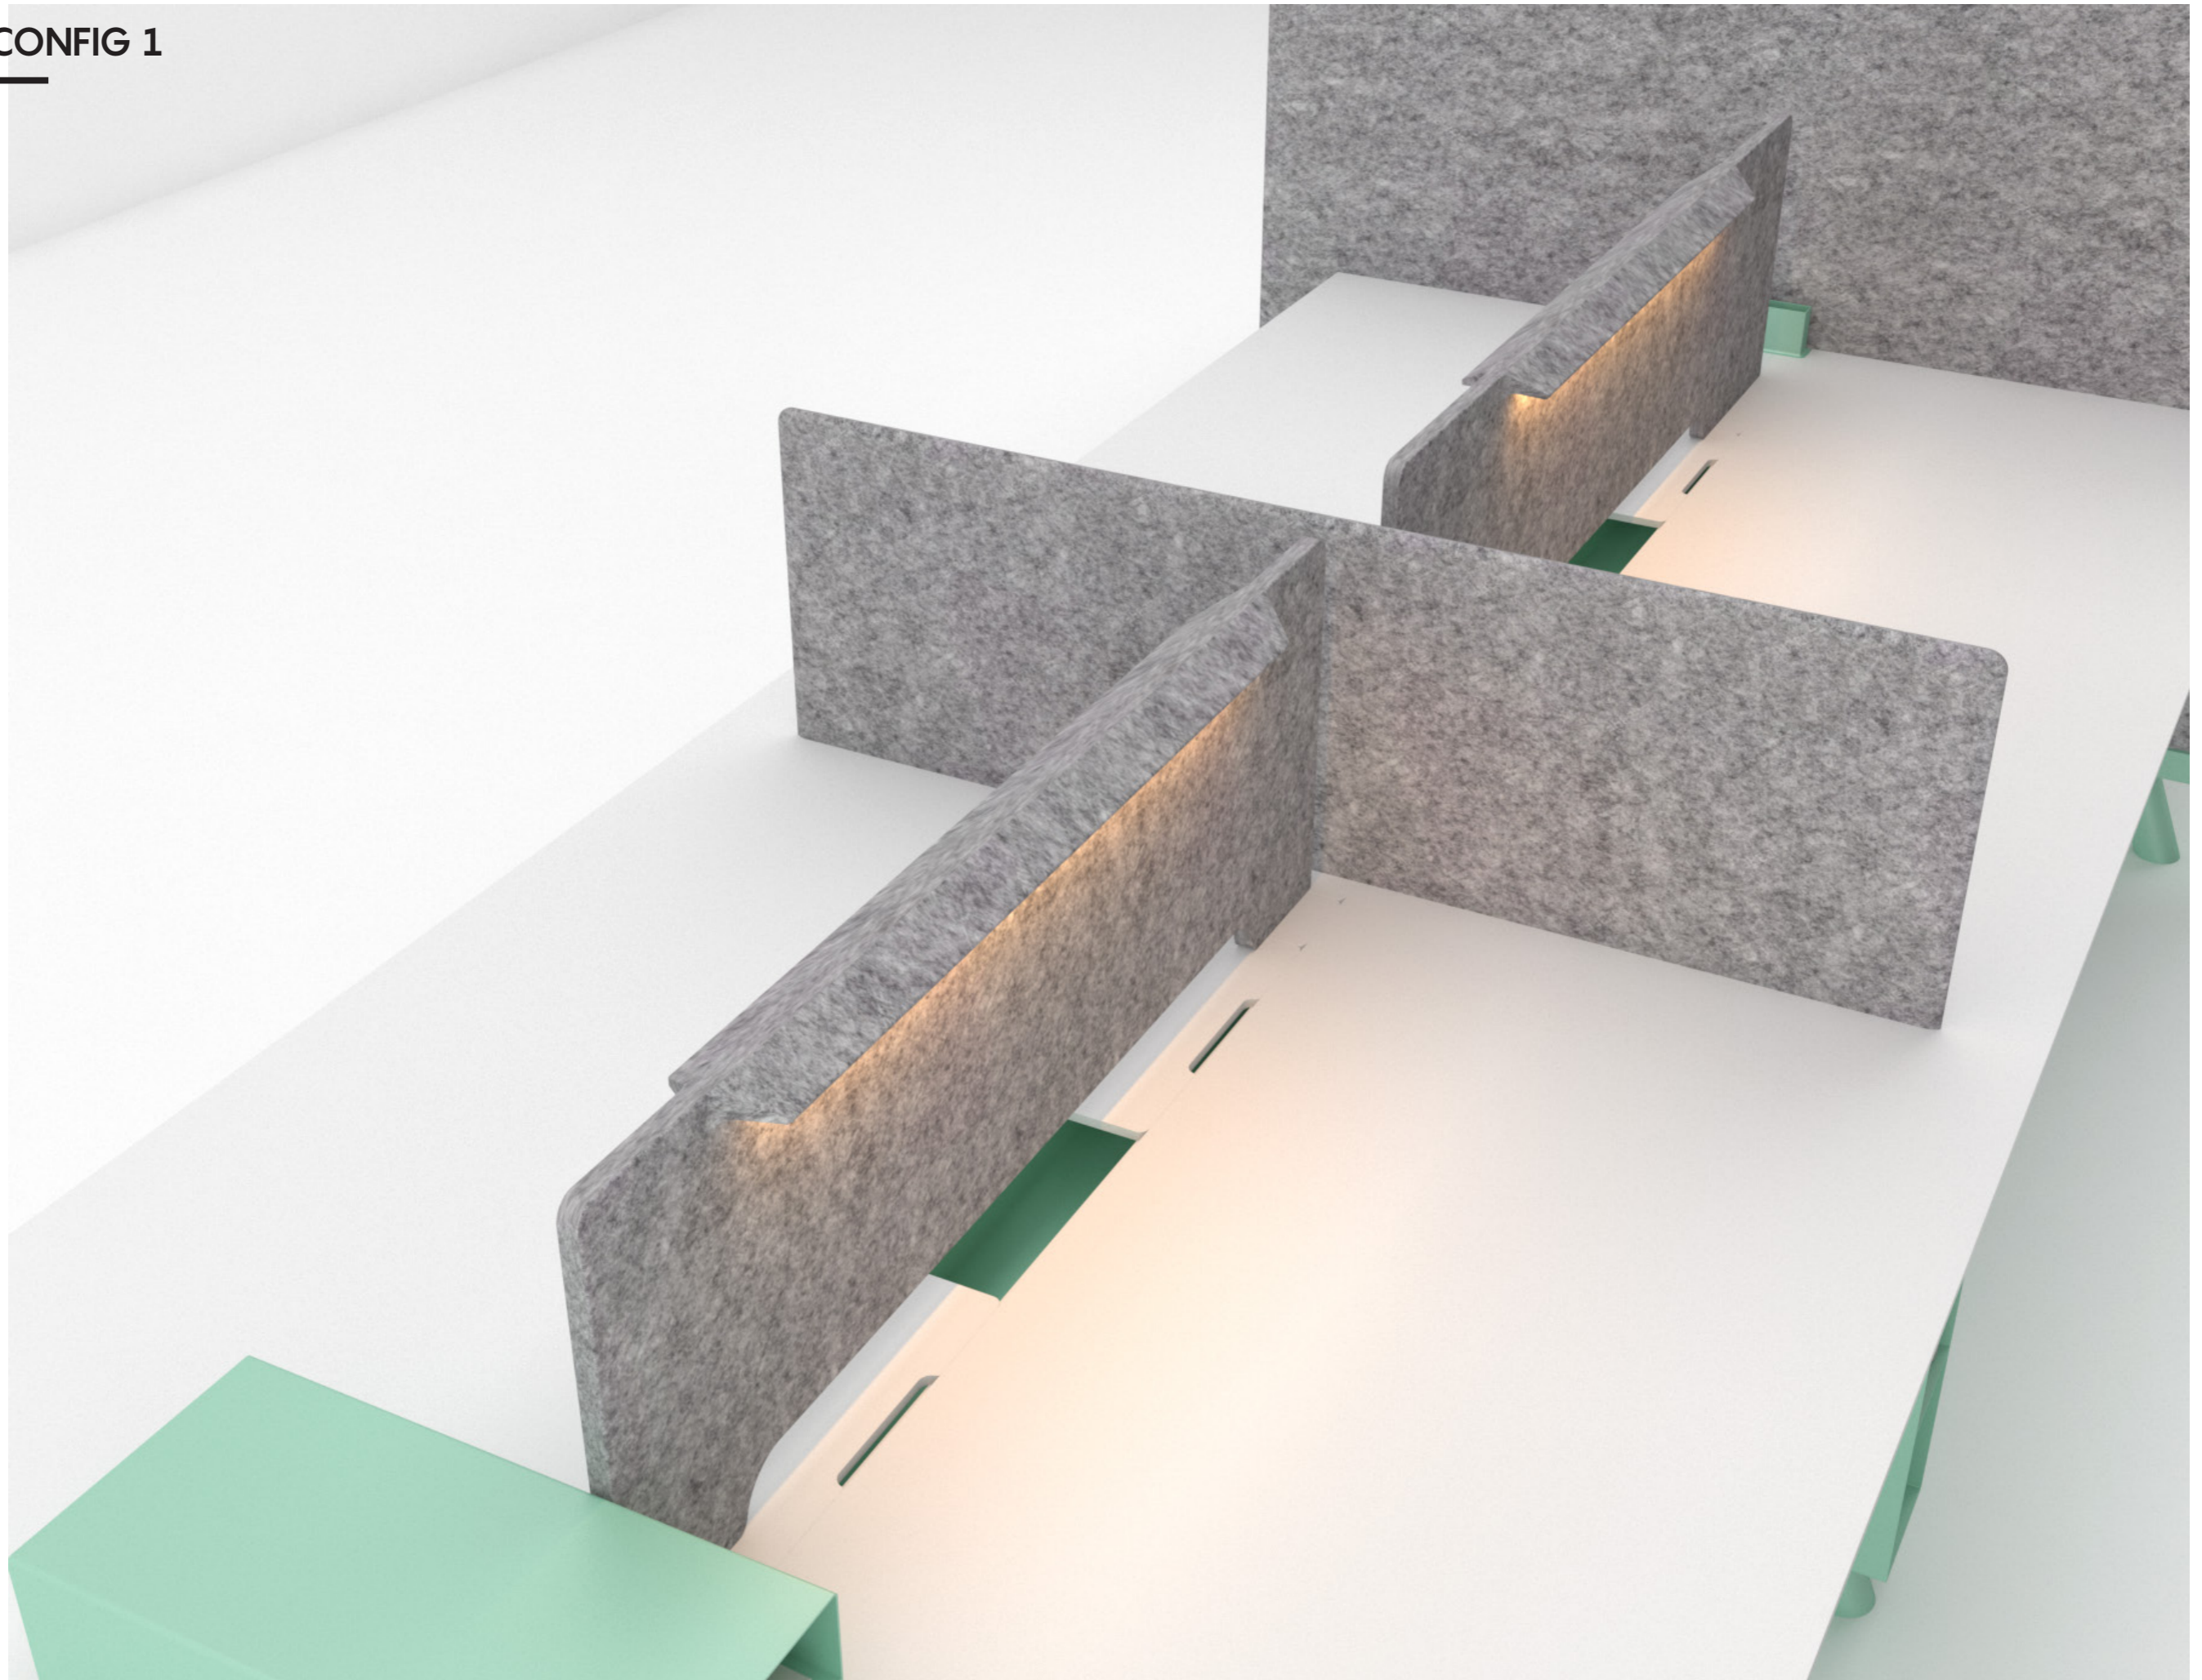

Responsibility and refinement go hand in hand. The Dymitr Workstation uses recyclable metal frames, low-emission finishes, and durable tabletops built for long-term performance.

Each material is carefully selected to minimize environmental impact while maintaining the visual and structural quality that defines Worklyffe products.

Adaptability & Presence

A Workstation That Defines the Space.

Dymitr's modular design allows endless configurations — from individual desks to large collaborative clusters. Its timeless silhouette and refined color palette complement a variety of interiors, from corporate offices to creative studios.

More than just furniture, the Dymitr Workstation shapes an environment that reflects focus, movement, and modern working culture.

Technology & Integration

Smartly Equipped for Modern Work.

Dymitr integrates seamlessly with today's workspace technology. Power modules, concealed cable routing, and optional lighting solutions ensure a clutter-free and connected environment. Every feature is designed to support efficiency while maintaining the workstation's clean, architectural aesthetic.
